FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

For $2.25, payable in advance, THE TIMES will be sent to any postoffice for one hundred days, covering more than the entire period of the impending political campaign; and for $2.50, in advance, THE TIMES will be delivered to city subscribers for the same period as above. For $4.50 in the city, or $4.25 by mail, we offer the paper for one hundred days, together with our premium, "THE LOS ANGELES TIMES ATLAS OF THE WORLD."

THE TIMES has established a State bureau in San Francisco, and politics will receive special attention in our columns. The State, Legislative, Congressional and Senatorial canvasses will be full of interest and importance. Subscribe now!

THE WEEKLY MIRROR.

For $4.00, in advance, we will furnish to any address, the PREMIUM ATLAS and THE WEEKLY MIRROR one year.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING.

All political advertisements, announcements, calls for meetings, etc., must be paid for in advance. This rule applies equally to the news columns and the regular advertising columns of THE TIMES.

ESTEE'S SPEECH.

Copies of Sunday's TIMES, containing the authorized report of the great campaign speech delivered by Hon. M. M. Estee Saturday night, will be supplied to committees and others upon application. Prices: $2.50 per 100 copies, or $25 per 1000 copies.

SOME very Pon-dous puns were displayed in yesterday's procession.

It is too bad that so much energy should be wasted on a losing cause.

MR. BUCKLEY was not present yesterday, but he was ably represented.

THE Democratic howl for reform, after they have nearly bankrupted the State, will fool nobody.

WITH another Democratic legislature the State will be pushed very close to the verge of bankruptcy.

THE State rate of taxation in 1889-90 was 72.2 cents, which is higher than that of any State in the Union, except Nevada.

THE Democrats of the State are crying for reform. Reform from what? From the burdens imposed upon California by a Democratic legislature.

ALL lovers of the beautiful will deplore the fire which has damaged the Alhambra, probably the most exquisite example of Moorish architecture in the world.

Did Mr. Pond say that he "could make no use of those damned Dutchmen"? That is what a number of worthy German-American voters would like to know.

THE news is confirmed that Germany has permitted slavery in Zanzibar, and the system, with all its horrors, will now be carried on openly there. Germany should be ashamed of itself. Even Turkey has nominally abolished the slave trade.

CONCERNING AN INSECT.

The Wasp is a lurid picture paper, published by a pinafore politician of the name of Backus, a pampered pensioner on a paternal government. The Wasp carries its talent in its tail. From that part of its person come those noisy utterances, either veal or venomous, which load the political air of the State and cause fatigue, even languor, among Republican readers.

The Wasp, it seems, has recently had the gall to reverse itself and come, left in front, at THE TIMES. Wherefore we know not, unless it be that we have heretofore had occasion to fligate the rash engineer of the pictorial ram for intemperance and uncalculated attacks upon Southern California and Southern California Republicans.

Let us see! It has not been many weeks or months since the irritable and vacillating editor of the Wasp gave forth quite another tone. Suppose, by way of variety, we quote some of his outgivings. Here is one:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12, 1890.

To the Editor of the Los Angeles Times: Sir—Kindly do justice in the columns of your journal by refusing the item published in your issue of June 10th, and copied from an Yreka Journal, in reference to my "cavailing among the merchants for slivers of war to elect Morrow Governor," etc. I am not yet postmaster of San Francisco; I did not cavass among the merchants for slivers of war; I did not cavass at all, and have done nothing that can be distorted in any manner to justify such a statement.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL W. BACKUS.

Without upbraiding the evidently nervous Backus for his timid, faltering support of the man of his choice—Mr. Morrow—response was promptly made by letter that the request would be cheerfully complied with and the Wasp editor's denial was published in THE TIMES accordingly.

The letter addressed to Mr. Backus by the editor of THE TIMES contained the following paragraph:

Reciprocally and kindly do justice, in the columns of your journal, to the South, to Col. H. H. Markham and to his Republican friends by refusing the editorial, pictorial and other intimations which have been made public in your paper, to the effect that we are engaged in a State division campaign; that Markham is under the ban, on that account, as a candidate for Governor; and take an oath that we are against State division, or be suspected of disloyalty to California and be punished by being refused all respectation in making up the Republican State ticket—which is the exact dictum and ultimatum that your publication has assumed to lay down for us of the South. We have done nothing that can be distorted in any manner to justify such statements as you have published.

As your suggestion for action, I am so intensely Californian, having lived here from earliest boyhood and for over thirty years, that I am scarcely as patient as I should be with those who favor a division of the great State. I am pleased, indeed, to see the course of your journal, and of others, in the matter of influence in this matter. It ought to settle the controversy; and I, for one, accept in good faith the disavowal of secession sentiments. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is looked upon in this section as the organ of the "southern part of California," which is to lead in the recently public opinion on the great and important questions affecting the welfare of the State.

If Col. Markham shall secure the nomination at Sacramento, no one will support him more enthusiastically than the Republicans of San Francisco. We are bound to presume that the convention will act wisely and in the interest of the whole State and party. We will be for the whole ticket. I will have something to say in this week's issue of the Wasp on these matters. I will take up your suggestion of cartoons, and have my artist try and copy your excellent ideas enclosed in your letter. I shall be pleased at any time to receive suggestions from you. I shall value them.

Again thanking you for your kindness, I am very truly yours,

SAMUEL W. BACKUS.

This is very slick, and conveys the impression that Mr. Backus is a "smooth citizen." His action, however, touching the nomination of Col. Markham, has not fully accorded with his oily promises. It is known that he accepted the result at Sacramento with very poor grace; that he left for home in a huff, and that the succeeding issue of his Wasp was ugly, not to say vicious, in its attempts to sting the convention and its nominee.

Mr. Backus, as is well known, is not a very large sort of person, either intellectually or politically, and when he attempts to talk loud, threaten and read the riot act to THE TIMES and to the South, as he appears to have been doing again, he simply makes a spectacle of himself. A publication that, by its own recent admission, has made a record as a backbiting sheet, has small right to play the role of censor, dictator, instructor, or commander to the Republicans of any part of the State.

We advise the envenomed Wasp to pull in its stinger, lest it run the risk of having its stinger severed by the Democratic sword which hangs suspended over the heads of pretenses, traitors, dictators and dunces.

The deadly over-head electric wire is still at work. On Saturday, in New York, a boy was rendered temporarily insane by coming in contact with a dangling wire, and on Monday, in the same city, a lineman was killed while fixing an electric light. Electricians should turn their attention of devising a means of preventing these frequent calamities.

The outlook for California vine-makers and vineyardists was never better than at present. Our vines are becoming appreciated in the East and abroad, besides which, a large amount of wine grapes have been dried this season, which will materially lessen the output.

ONE of the most noteworthy features of the Democratic procession yesterday was the presence in it of ex-County Tax Collector Platt, who was only lifted out of his office at the previous day. Mr. Platt's card is still in the papers as an aspirant for the office of County Assessor on the Republican ticket, but we presume that he will now withdraw his name. Perhaps he thinks he stands more chance to secure the nomination on the Democratic ticket.

REFERRING to the greatly increased taxation of San Francisco and of the State, the San Francisco Bulletin says: Taxation is going up pretty heavily, but we have not much to show for it. It is quite evident that the brakes will have to be put on all around. The remarkable financial fact in a local point of view is the expansion of an apparently right limit on taxation. This has been done by various tricks—such as the regular annual misstatement of the amount of the assessment for the year, the setting aside of the limit by Buckley operating through the Legislature and the open violation of the limit this year. At the rate we are going the people who own property will soon be nothing more than the tenants of the State in city and State. Nothing but a clean sweep of everything and every body in any way connected with him will do the least good.

THE transparencies exhibited in the procession yesterday displayed a remarkable variance of opinion on part of the local Democracy as to the date of the State election, some inscriptions assigning that event to the fourth, some to the fifth, and others to the sixth of November. However, the Democrats never were strong on facts and figures. Fire works and figures of speech are generally good enough for them.

THE State Democracy sees how indignant the people of California are at the extravagance of the late Democratic Legislature, so the order has gone forth that "Reform" is to be the watchword of the campaign. "When the devil was sick, the devil a monk would be," but let Buckley's man get in, and we shall be able to add the rest of the distich—"the devil a monk was he."

THE State taxes for this second year of Democratic pillage, 1890, will yield the immense sum of $6,144,223. Here is a comparison with some other States for the previous year:

Indiana	$3,621,310
Iowa	2,360,043
Kansas	1,311,178
Michigan	3,134,940
Minnesota	3,662,064
Missouri	3,000,000

SOME plausible arguments were made at the Democratic meeting last night, but they will not bear the calcium light of logical investigation. The Democrats seem to be trying to show that it was the Republican minority in the late Legislature that seduced the Democratic majority and led it into extravagance. This is "too thin."

THE Board of Supervisors yesterday selected A. B. Whitney to fill the vacant position of County Tax Collector for the rest of the term. The confidence which is felt in Mr. Whitney in the community was shown by the readiness with which he secured the large amount of bond necessary.

At a Republican meeting at North Beach, in San Francisco, on Monday, Col. Markham said that if the people desired such a law as the Australian ballot law he could assure them that the Republicans would favor it.

In Chicago steps have been taken to form a political party in defense of the public school system and "in opposition to the growing political power of the Roman-Catholic Church."

THE increase of taxation in California in 1889 and 1890 (under a Democratic Legislature) over the taxation in 1883 and 1884 was $6,063,710.

OVER four millions of Chinese are homeless in the Yellow River Valley, owing to the floods. What an awful mass of misery!

NAPOLEON II.

Born to be a Caesar and Ruler, But Never Ruled.

"Who was Napoleon I asked, and strange to say, seldom, if ever, answered, Napoleon the Great, the Second, the Little. That is the order. The second Napoleon was Duke of Reichstadt, son of Napoleon I and a daughter of Hapsburg. Losing all hope of ever leaving a son and heir by his beautiful Josephine, he turned to the French Senate and secured a divorce. What was said by him and Eugene to Josephine is only partially known. The gentle woman, true as a vulpine always, yielded to his schemes. Josephine, silenced, and the decree granted, Napoleon turned to Russia, to that mixture of madness, terror and cruelty, the Romanoffs. He would wed a daughter of that house, which, in a prophetic mind had prophesied, would one day rule Europe. Refused by a child of the Greek church, he turns to one like himself, a recreant from the Roman Catholic Church. The girl, daughter of the Bourbon crown, in alliance with the Corsican was too much, even for Metetrich.

Marie Louise was willing. She, the descendant of a long line of kings, of Europe's oldest and proudest, bled her blood with that of a Corsican adventurer. The offspring of the marriage was Napoleon III, King of Rome and Duke of Reichstadt. In its cradle kings and rulers paid it homage. Why not? In its father's dreams it was a world governor, a mighty emperor, a greater than Alexander or Caesar. Once more East and West, as under Charlemagne, to be under wedded crown by one scepter—the Corsican's magic wand.

Not only the wide long West from beyond the Pyrenees to the Zuyder Zee, from Jura to the ocean, but lands lying to the east, by the Tiber, the Hellespont, the Gauges and Orontes, the Nile and Euphrates. Where Caesar went and Alexander he would go. Only a few years and there was no conqueror, no king, only a little—poor, bitter, minded, broken prisoner; and Rome's King, Reichstadt's Duke, had neither diadem nor scepter, only disease—death. Whether he was diplomatically done away with or died of disease not unattestedly contracted no one will ever know.

He, the hero, who in "The Bonny Bunch of Roses" promises so many big things, lived to accomplish nothing. Napoleon III, poor, bitter, minded, broken prisoner; and Rome's King, Reichstadt's Duke, had neither diadem nor scepter, only disease—death. Whether he was diplomatically done away with or died of disease not unattestedly contracted no one will ever know.

COAST GUARDINGS.

A British Ship Runs Off With Her Cargo.

The Body of Another Petrel Victim Found Near San Diego.

Singular Case of Madness on Board a Whaling Vessel.

Meeting of the Southern California Presbytery at San Diego—Other Happenings Along the Pacific Coast.

By Telegram to THE TIMES.

PORTLAND, Sept. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] Captain Banks, master of the British bark Kate F. Troop, which was labeled last Sunday by a sailor who brought suit in the United States Court for $5000 damages for alleged cruelties, left the dock on Tuesday morning and started for Astoria while the keeper in charge was ashore at breakfast. The United States Marshal telegraphed the Deputy United States Marshal at Astoria to arrest the vessel.

ASTORIA (Or.) Sept. 17.—The British bark Kate F. Troop, which eluded the officers in Portland, arrived today and was taken into custody by the Deputy United States Marshal.

A SINGULAR VOYAGE.

The Crew Mutinied Because the Ship Was Unseaworthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] Three mates and three of the crew of the whaling bark Legado arrived here today on the steamer Rio Janeiro from Yokohama. The Legado left this port on a whaling voyage at the opening of the season, but soon sprung a leak. Men were put at the pumps and finally she reached Vladivostok, Siberia. Her men compelled the captain to sail for Yokohama, where the ship could be surveyed. The captain started for Yokohama, but soon after changed his mind and started back on a whaling voyage. When the crew discovered this they mutinied on the high seas and forced the captain to sail for Yokohama. At that port the bark was condemned by the American consul and sold.

SAN DIEGO.

The Presbytery's Session—Another Petrel Victim Found.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The Southern California Presbytery convened in the First Presbyterian Church in this city today. A large audience was present. Forty-four ministers and elders are in attendance and more are expected to arrive tonight and tomorrow.

Dr. W. S. Young of Los Angeles was elected moderator for the next six months, and Rev. John Morrison of San Bernardino clerk.

A fisherman discovered the body of Hella Mary Collins, one of the victims of the Petrel yachting disaster, at the mouth of the harbor this forenoon in the kelp beds, about two miles outside.

Trainmen's Grievances Settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Representative from the trainmen's grievance committee held a final meeting with the Southern Pacific officials today to ratify the agreement about wages. The agreement will cost the company about $80,000 a year additional for operating expenses.

A Northern Pacific Wreck.

ELLENBURG (Wash.) Sept. 17.—A passenger train on the Northern Pacific was wrecked on this division at 1 o'clock this morning near Prosser. One coach, a baggage and an express car and the engine left the track. The fireman was scalded, but not seriously.

Failed.

ELLENBURG (Wash.) Sept. 17.—The failure of Samuel Kneidel, dry goods and clothing, was announced late last night. His liabilities are believed to reach $75,000, with assets of $30,000 or $40,000. The creditors are largely Portland and San Francisco merchants.

IGNORED THE ORDER.

The Santa Fe Disobeys an Obnoxious Disposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission in the case of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce vs. the Santa Fe and allied roads affecting terminal rates, ordered that after September 1st, through rates to San Bernardino should be no higher than to Los Angeles. The effect of this decision was that Los Angeles was not entitled to terminal rates or lower rates, by virtue of water competition to Blaine, Reed and Harrison. Mention of Blaine's name created a perfect furor. Reed's name was loudly cheered and mention of the President's was liberally applauded.

Samuel E. Marwin was nominated for Governor, George P. McLean, Secretary of State; E. Stephen Henry, Treasurer; Lyman S. Catlin, Comptroller.

The platform indorses the administration of President Harrison, declares in favor of protection and reciprocity, advocates the passage of the National Election Law, and indorses the action of the House in upholding the right of the majority to rule.

Adjusted.

Fourth Census District.

FRESNO Sept. 17. The Republican has compiled statistics regarding the Fourth census district. The total population of the district is 151,839 against 91,455 in 1880. The population of the principal cities is: Fresno, 10,800; Santa Cruz, 5788; Monterey, 1822; San Luis Obispo, 3004.

The following is the present population of the different counties: Fresno, 31,158; Tulare, 24,878; Kern, 10,031; Santa Cruz, 19,235; San Luis Obispo, 16,179; Stanislaus, 9938; San Benito, 6229; Monterey, 18,658; Merced, 7702; Mono, 1016; Mariposa, 3517.

An Elegant Residence Burned.

OAKLAND, Sept. 17.—Capt. J. C. Ainsworth's elegant house and stables at Claremont were burned today. The loss is said to be $50,000.

Nominated for Congress.

CAREY (Or.) Sept. 17.—Ex-Gov. Charles Foster was nominated by acclamation in the Eighth Republican Congress District today.

Atchison had bought control of the Colorado Midland. It is said the price paid was $50 per share. The Colorado Midland operates 274 miles of road, the main line running from Colorado Springs to Newcastle, Col., 224 miles, with branches at Aspen, Spring Gulch and Arkansas Junction.

Fire in a Theater.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—At Niblo's Garden tonight an upper proscenium box caught fire from a calcium light. People jumped from their seats and there was almost a terrible panic. The fire was quickly extinguished, however, and the audience were induced to retire quietly.

Clara Belle's Diamonds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Sheriff Laumaster began proceedings in the Superior Court this morning against R. H. McDonald, Jr., Clara Belle McDonald and Seneca Swalm to determine the ownership of diamonds and jewelry seized in the case of the People vs. Swalm.

A Big Mortgage Filed.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 17.—The St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company today filed a mortgage to the Central Trust Company for $8,000,000. It is on the Pacific extension through Montana, Idaho and Washington to Puget Sound.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

NEW GOODS RECEIVED DAILY FROM THE EAST.

But They Are Hardly in the Store Before They Are Gone—The Best for the Least Money.

PEOPLE'S STORE.
Thursday, Sept. 18, 1909.

We are daily receiving new goods from our Eastern buyers which are certainly very handsome, but hardly do we get them in before they are all sold out. The reason of this is that our prices are so attractive that our patrons cannot resist them. There is not a day passes but what in every department in our establishment you can find some extraordinary bargains. Experience has taught us that there is only one way of doing business, and that is the right way. Give your customers the best the market affords for the least money. This has always been our aim, and success has attended us.

CONSUMPTION

Can Be Cured

This is being attested every week by those who are, and have been, treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

— BY HIS —

Medicated Inhalations

And his COMPOUND OXYGEN TREATMENT for the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest.

In order to get an idea as to the time really required for the cure of these various diseases, read the following, viz.:

Mrs. J. M. Mathews, Clinton, Neb., cured of Bronchitis in nine years in four months.

Wm. Arthur, Portland, Or., cured of Oozoma, ten years standing, in six months.

Howard Wilson, Ontario, Canada, but formerly of England, cured of Asthmatic Consumption of twenty-six years' standing, in three months.

Hon. J. P. Johnston, Brooklyn, N. Y., cured of Phthisis (first stage) of four years standing, in three months.

Mrs. C. C. Caldwell, St. Paul, Minn., Granulated Throat, five years standing, cured in four months.

Mrs. Harrison, Tacoma, Washington, cured in two months of an aggravated case of Catarrh.

Stewart Matthews, Victoria, B. C., cured of a severe case of Bronchitis in three months.

Wm. Strong, Tombstone, Arizona, cured in four months of the first stage of Catarrhal Consumption.

H. A. Vail, cured of Bronchial Consumption of seven years' standing, in three months.

Miss Johnson, cured of Asthma of forty-two years' standing, in five months.

Charles Wingo, Tacoma, Washington, cured of Bronchitis of seven years' standing, in five months.

Persons using this treatment can use the remedies at home as well as at my office.
